A SPARKLING NEW YEAR

CHAMPAGNE PALMER & CO. REIMS, FRANCE

A classic tri-varietal blend of Chardonnay, Pinot Noir and Pinot Meunier, Champagne Palmer has created a rich and full-bodied rosé, perfect for winter drinking, and a great food partner too. Aged for three years on its lees, the wine offers delightful crunchy red fruits on the palate, together with subtle spice and vanilla notes.

Uniquely, a small proportion of Pinot Noir from a 35 year old solera system contributes to the blend, adding further depth and richness to the wine.

STEENBERG CONSTANTIA, SOUTH AFRICA

Made from 100% Chardonnay by JD Pretorius at the Steenberg cellars in Constantia, the grapes are sourced from Robertson, which is renowned for its limestone soils, as well as Darling and Bonnievale.

Produced in exactly the same way as Champagne, the wine spends between 12 and 18 months on its base lees, developing classic characters of brioche and butter. The wine has excellent acidity, with notes of Granny Smith apples and lemon zest on the palate, together with a lively salinity. Striking and elegant packaging completes this wine.

MAS DES CAPITELLES FAUGERES

Cedric and Brice Lauge are third generation winemakers who manage their family business, preserving the winemaking traditions of their grandfather, one of the original founders of the Faugeres appellation. Their 24 hectares of vineyards are largely planted to Carignan, the region's signature variety, with many of the vineyards over 60 years old. The Lauge family have long practised both organic and biodynamic viticulture and are certified in the former.

La Catiede is an organic blend of 50% Carignan, 20% Mourvedre, 10% Syrah and 20% Grenache, offering bold red fruit flavours and a well-balanced palate.

DOMAINE DES PAISSELS SAINT CHINIAN

Produced by the young winemaking team of Vivien Roussignol and Marie Toussaint. Together they have revived Vivien's grandfather's 2 ha vineyard, and over the last five years have piqued the interest of wine critics on both sides of the channel. Like the Lauges, Carignan is their key varietal and they look to harness its trademark acidity, with the more fruit-driven Grenache.

A blend of 50% Carignan and 50% Grenache, this wine has ripe dark fruit flavours with more savoury notes of black olive. Supple and lively, it pairs brilliantly with slow-cooked beef dishes and hard, full-flavoured cheese.

CHATEAU COUPE-ROSES MINERVOIS

Family run, Chateau Coupe-Roses has a 400 year long history. Certified organic, this 45 ha property is managed by the Frissant family, with son Mathias the resident oenologist. The property takes its name from the red hued clays that form the local soil structure.

Both wines are bold and expressive, enjoying four weeks of skin contact prior to fermentation. La Bastide is the simpler wine, a 50/50 blend of Carignan and Grenache offering moreish, ripe fruit balanced with a good acid structure. Les Plots leads with 70% Syrah, 20% Grenache and the balance Carignan. This is a wine with energy – black fruits, elegant aromatics and a lively freshness combine to make this a winter staple.

CALIFORNIAN PIONEERS

RENWOOD AMADOR COUNTY

Winemaker and general manager Joe Shebl has made significant waves at Renwood since joining in 2013 – as is evident by his inclusion in the 2014 US Wine Enthusiast's Top 40 under 40. One of his key changes was the introduction of night harvesting. In a region that often experiences daily temperature swings of up to 40°C, Joe was keen to ensure grapes were picked at the coolest possible temperature.

The resulting Renwood wines have elegant aromatics and balanced acidity. The 2014 Zinfandel displays ripe cherry and plum characters, together with savoury herbal notes. Only 10% is aged in French oak, with the remainder spending 14 months in stainless steel. While exceptionally moreish, the wine retains a clean acidity and a long finish.

DRY CREEK VINEYARDS SONOMA COUNTY

Dry Creek Vineyards was the dream of David Stare, a globe-trotting American who had fallen in love with Loire Valley wines, and was determined to create his own winery and produce the styles that he first discovered in his 20s. The first winery to be established in Dry Creek Valley in 1972, David achieved many more firsts, championing Zinfandel and establishing Dry Creek Valley as a recognised appellation.

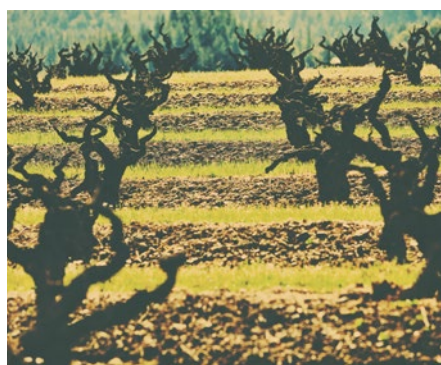

Named as one of the US's best buys by Wine Enthusiast, Dry Creek Chenin Blanc is sourced from the Wilson Ranch. The wine offers white pear and tropical fruits on the nose, and fresh tangerine and peaches on the palate. 100% stainless steel fermentation ensures a lively acidity is retained – this is a great alternative to Chardonnay and Sauvignon Blanc.

TRUCHARD CARNEROS

For the last 40 years Tony and Jo Ann Truchard have grown grapes in the Carneros region of Napa Valley. Today they own over 400 acres, planted to over 10 varieties. As one of the first to grow grapes in this region, they are true pioneers of the Carneros region and have built a loyal following for their wines.

Truchard Cabernet Sauvignon 2013 is complemented by small percentages of Cabernet Franc, Petit Verdot and Malbec, which amounts to a total of 12% in the final blend. Aged for 20 months in French oak, of which 45% is new, the wine was released in August 2015 and will comfortably age for at least 10 years. The palate is plush and fruit forward with layers of red and black fruits interwoven with cedar and vanilla. Elegant tannins ensure a long, fruit-focused finish.

Wine Spectator, August 2016 – “Though firm and concentrated this offers a measure of elegance and finesse”. – 90 points.
